TEEN & VETERAN SCHEDULE 2018:

SUMMER WORKSHOP I: War, Words, Dance: Stories and Shakespeare - July 13, 14, 15

Participants: HS Students and Veterans

WORKSHOP TAUGHT BY DIRECTORS OF

FEAST OF CRISPIAN: Bright Hill will host a workshop led by the Directors of Feast of Crispian, a not-for-profit organization whose mission is to bring together professional actors with post deployment service veterans in order to teach and strengthen emotional resources that veterans need to overcome traumatic and reintegration issues. Military Vets and high school student writers (especially those who may have an interest in entering the service), will take part in a series of acting and storytelling exercises. Veterans will share stories with high school students about coming home and dealing with challenges of family and reintegration.

The foundation of Feast of Crispian's work in this phase is a three-day acting and storytelling Shakespeare intensive. Feast uses simple acting exercises to build an ensemble feeling, and to give the veterans an experience of risk free stress - the dangerous "thrill" they might have encountered in the military without the danger. Special techniques developed by the directors allow collaborators to then work scenes from Shakespeare, without the need for reading the difficult language or even any prior familiarity with the plays. The veteran participants (in this case, vets and teenagers) are given the "mask" of character to express big feelings without telling any personal information. Feast uses different scenes to explore emotions and relationships, and the lines of poetry give a safe container for big, emotional expression. Workshop leaders have many ways of supporting participants in engaging their bodies. The goal is to facilitate the interaction of students and veterans, in order to generate ideas for creating visual art, poetry and dance. Story telling circles with enough social interaction to encourage trust and bonding is anticipated.

FEE: $50 - full & partial scholarships available (Del. Acad. & CS students, full scholarship)_____

SUMMER WORKSHOP II: War, Words, Dance: Writing Workshop - July 23 thru 27

Participants: HS Students & Veterans

STUDENT WRITERS WILL PARTICIPATE IN A FIVE-DAY WRITING AND VISUAL ART WORKSHOP led by Master Teaching Artist Bertha Rogers. Rogers will lead the students in a series of exercises during which the students will write and create visual art about the vets' experiences, based on various themes that will evolve organically, such as leaving and/or returning home (a transformed person). Rogers will structure workshops around the five senses, and lead experiential exercises that will focus on various elements of soldiers' stories. Student writers will describe combat environments (such as the desert, rainforests), the specific sounds of battle (bombs going off, artillery, the sound of soldiers gathering to eat their meals in the field), so that the receiver can visualize and experience the Veterans' stories viscerally. FEE: $120 - full & partial scholarships available (Del. Acad. & CS students, full scholarship)_____
